

TECHbash

NEPA | 2008

Announcing TECHbash 2008 NEPA's Premier Technology Conference

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SUMMARY

Saturday, May 10th, TECHbash 2008, NEPA's premier technology conference will kick off at 7:30am at Luzerne County Community College, Nanticoke, PA. Event details including the online registration form can be found at <http://www.techbash.com>.

Wilkes-Barre, PA – April 16, 2008 - Saturday, May 10th, TECHbash 2008, NEPA's premier technology conference sponsored by .NET Valley, will kick off at 7:30am at Luzerne County Community College, Nanticoke, PA.

WHAT IS TECHBASH

Today's Technology Professionals face enormous pressure to cut costs and increase productivity in a rapidly evolving landscape of ever changing technology solutions. TECHbash brings together Developers, Systems Administrators, Technology Decision Makers and Industry Experts from leading technology firms, including Microsoft, to share knowledge in a relaxed, social environment.

This year TECHbash will feature three focused tracks; IT Professional, Developer and Emerging Technology. Each track will feature four sessions covering a broad array of subjects within the focus areas. Attendees will learn some of the latest tips and tricks of the trade as well as previewing cutting edge technology.

The best part about TECHbash is that its FREE! Attendees spend the day networking with peers and learning essential skills for survival from industry experts.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

TECHbash is a technical event for IT Professionals, Developers and those involved in strategic technology decision making. The event is organized and delivered by .NET Valley, Northeastern Pennsylvania's only technical User Group.

WHAT YOU'LL LEARN

At TECHbash 2008, you will have the chance to learn the latest technologies and concepts in the industry including:

- Windows Server 2008
- Windows Communication Framework (WCF)
- Unified Communications
- MSBuild 3.5
- Software as a Service
- Social Networking
- "Green" Concepts
- ASP.NET AJAX Applications

FURTHER INFORMATION

More information about TECHbash 2008 can be found at <http://www.techbash.com>. Additional information about the .NET Valley Users Group can be found at <http://www.dotnetvalley.com>.

###

ABOUT .NET VALLEY

.NET Valley is the only community supported technology user group in Northeastern Pennsylvania. Our mission is to create an environment that fosters ongoing conversations and knowledge sharing among technology professionals in NEPA, Southern NY and Lehigh Valley.

.NET Valley debuted at the Wilkes-Barre F.U.N.N. yearly event on April 22nd, 2003. The first regular monthly meeting of the .NET Valley was held on May 27th. Our user group has members in Carbon, Columbia, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Pike, Schuylkill, Wayne, and Wyoming counties in Pennsylvania. .NET Valley usually meets the third Wednesday of each month alternating meeting locations between the Wilkes-Barre and Scranton areas. In addition to membership in INETA and Culminus this diverse group includes industry experts such as Microsoft Most Valuable Professionals and a former Microsoft TechNet presenter.